(Special Advocate Telegram.)

Convention Hall, Columbus, June 4—Col. M. M. Gillett of Newark, was sacrificed in the Republican State convention today as the price paid for a conspiracy to solve the problem in relation to the Lieutenant Governorship. He lost Hamilton county and the support of George B. Cox by a deal made last night by the terms of which Hanna consented to drop his opposition to Senator Harding. The bosses also took advantage of the Newark candidate by requiring the nomination for auditor to come immediately after the lieutenant governorship, against all precedent. While the sentiment of the convention is against third terms there is no appeal from the decision of the bosses. Judge Irvine of Newark very peacefully moved to make Guilbert's nomination unanimous, but the Licking county people are as sore as Job's boils over the action in turning Col. Gillett down.

Gillett received 138 votes and Guilbert got the rest of the 873 in the convention.

Columbus, O., June 4—The nominating session of the Republican state convention was called to order by Chairman Hanna at 10:20 this morning, who called for the report of the committee on permanent organization. It was forthcoming, naming Senator Foraker as permanent chairman. Foraker was at once introduced.

Before the convention opened this morning Boothman, the old soldier candidate for Lieutenant Governor withdrew and consented to present the name of Senator W. G. Harding of Marion to the convention for Lieutenant Governor. This assured Harding's nomination by acclamation.

The platform adopted endorses President Roosevelt for "his adherence to President McKinley's policies" and favors his re-election in 1904. It also says the re-election of Hanna to the U. S. Senate is a distinct national demand and he is pledged the undivided support of the party. Foraker and Nash are praised. Also there is a good word said for the new municipal code. Recognition of labor in the settlement of differences with capital was favored. The platform praises the enforcement of trust laws by President Roosevelt and says if further legislation is needed the Republican party can take care of it.

In his opening speech just before the adoption of the resolutions Senator Foraker said: "This is Hanna's year. Yesterday was Hanna's day. His keynote speech was the best I ever heard." Hanna's re-election, he said, if left alone would accomplish itself but all Republicans would take a hand. He said of President Roosevelt: "He is quick of trigger but a sure shot. He will hit the bull's eye in 1904."

Paul Howland of Cleveland, presented the name of Myron T. Herrick of Cleveland, and he was nominated for Governor by acclamation.

Warren G. Harding's name was presented by Mr. Boothman for Lieutenant Governor and he was nominated by acclamation.

For Auditor of State, third term, W. D. Guilbert, was nominated on the first ballot, defeating Col. Melville M. Gillett of Newark, who put up a game fight for the nomination.

For Treasurer of State, W. S. McKinnon of Cleveland was nominated on the first ballot.

For Attorney General Wade H. Ellis of Hamilton county, was nominated by acclamation.

Judge A. N. Summers of Springfield, was nominated for Supreme Justice on the third ballot.

At 2:30 o'clock the convention is balloting for the second time for State School Commissioner with L. D. Bonebrake of Mt. Vernon, in the lead.

For School Commissioner E. A. Jones was nominated.

For Board of Public Works, Geo. H. Watkins will be the nominee.

TO COX

It is Reported That Hanna Bowed—
Senator Harding's Stock Sent Up a Few Notches.

Columbus, O., June 4—This morning it looks as if Hanna had bowed to Cox and will present no opposition to the nomination of Harding for Lieutenant Governor. Cox said to Senator Hanna after an all night session: "I shall consider Senator Harding's defeat as a personal humiliation." Hanna then told the Boothman supporters that he could not help them.

So Harding was nominated later by acclamation.

MARK HANNA

Remains in Control of the State Organization—The Seventeenth District's Representation.

Columbus, O., June 4—The control of the state organization remains with the Hanna faction. The state central committee for 1903-4 is under the domination of the junior senator 3 to 1.

The seventeenth district is represented on the several committees as follows:

State Central—W. B. Bryson of Wayne.

Resolutions—J. L. McIlvaine of Tuscarawas.

Permanent Organization—W. C. Stout of Holmes.

Credentials—J. F. Meek of Coshocton.

Rules and Order of Business—J. M. Ickes of Licking.

THE PLATFORM

Indorses Roosevelt for Renomination.
Two Points of Difference Arose at Convention.

Columbus, O., June 4—The members of the Committee on Resolutions met in Parlor A of the Chittenden Hotel. General Dick was elected Chairman. There was no disagreement upon the proposition specifically to indorse Roosevelt for renomination, and, in fact, only two points of difference arose. These were upon the taxation amendment submitted by the State Board of Commerce, and the propriety of indorsing an amendment to the constitution providing for the classification of cities. These matters were submitted to a subcommittee composed of General Dick, Congressman Nevins, General Grosvenor, Congressman Longworth and Sam McClure. In committee the taxation amendment was rejected as too broad. The classification proposition was opposed by Congressman Longworth, who maintained that it was only fair to give the new code a chance to show its effectiveness. This view finally prevailed, and while the platform recommends these questions, to the consideration of the people it does not indorse them.

The resolutions commend President Roosevelt's ability and adherence to McKinley's principles and favor his nomination, the re-election of Hanna as Senator and praise Governor General Taft of the Philippines; favors three of the proposed constitutional amendments, maintenance of canals, better roadways, improvement of Ohio river and tax reform. No charge is wanted in the tariff or other national declarations.

Certain planks insist on the enforcement of the amendments for negro suffrage or the reduction of the representation of Southern states in Congress and the electoral college.

The resolutions also favor legislation to stimulate local bank circulation.

GUILBERT

Thought of Running for Lieutenant Governor, but Was Advised to Stay in the Race.

Columbus, June 4—The correspondent of the Enquirer sent the following to his paper concerning Gillett:

"The interest evinced in the fight over the nomination for Lieutenant Governor has tended to overshadow the other contests. As far as specta-

RIVER SUN OBSCURED BY SMOKE FROM THE FOREST FIRES.

Rising Rapidly at St Louis

But At Kansas City the Conditions Improve

TWO HUNDRED DRIVEN OUT OF THEIR HOMES

LEVEES BEING STRENGTHENED

In Anticipation of Further Rise of the Water on the Mississippi—Day's Flood News.

St. Louis, Mo., June 4—The river at St. Louis stood at 82.5 feet which is 2.3 above the danger mark, at 10 o'clock this morning, a rise of nearly one foot in 24 hours.

The levee from Franklin avenue to the Eads bridge is under water and the water has worked its way up Morgan street for nearly half a block.

The Wabash tracks along that portion of the levee are under two feet of water. Cellars of business houses and boarding houses along the levee are filling rapidly.

The situation in Carondelet remains practically unchanged, but the stage of the flood is a few inches higher than on Wednesday.

Great apprehension continues in the cities across the river. Venice is suffering a partial inundation and a great sea stretches from that little city to East St. Louis. Throughout East St. Louis, Venice, Granite City and Madison hundreds of men are at work on the levees building them up and strengthening them.

It is estimated that 200 persons have been driven from their homes in the Venice bottoms. Many people have taken refuge in tents and box cars.

Kansas City, Mo., June 4—Fires were started under the boilers in the Turkey creek pumping station this morning and before the day is over it is believed that water will be pumped into one of the city's reservoirs, thus beginning the work of flushing the choked sewers. The Missouri river stood at 32.9 feet at 6.45 a. m. today, a drop of 18 inches in 24 hours. Work has begun cleaning out the bottoms.

At the city hall today 150 city employees were sworn in as sanitary sergeants, equipped with guns and stars and sent out into the 145 voting precincts of the city to enforce a general cleanup order. Every back alley and yard must be cleaned by the citizens.

Something akin to consternation is caused by the announcement that it may be three weeks before any one will be allowed to live in the houses in the flooded districts. Convention hall is still crowded today with homeless people.

THE POPE ILL

Rome, June 4—The health of the Pope took a more disquieting turn today, when his holiness had a severe attack of diarrhoea. His doctors say they have no fear of complications, but considerable danger lies in the advanced age of the prelate.

COL. MEADE

Commander of Third Regiment Arrested at Columbus and Was Locked up for an Hour.

Columbus, O., June 4—Colonel H. E. Meade, Third regiment, O. N. G. of Dayton, was arrested and held for an hour in the city prison last night charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

Being refused admittance to the dining room at the Chittenden Hotel, he assaulted the house detective, M. J. Murphy, and with the aid of some friends vanquished the officer. Meade then went to the hotel office and made an attack upon Clerk J. H. Lippincott.

The police were notified at this point and Colonel Meade was arrested and locked up. An hour later he was released on bond.

Great Resemblance to "Yellow Day" Down East Years Ago.

Village Destroyed by Fierce Flames In The East.

Adirondack Fire Conditions Are Also Most Serious —Thousands of Acres of Heavy Spruce Timber Land Destroyed.

New York, June 4—Greater New York and vicinity is today enveloped in a yellow atmosphere of haze and smoke, which entirely obscures the sun. When Gothamites arose this morning the air was so thick that many thought the much-longed-for rainstorm was at last at hand. The thick atmosphere was caused by the combination of a slight haze and a large volume of smoke blown over the city from the terrific fires which are today raging throughout the forest of New England and northeastern New York.

WHOLE STATE DARKENED.

Nashua, N. H., June 4—The entire state of New Hampshire is darkened with a pall of smoke from forest fires. So dense is the smoke that the sun is entirely obscured and it is with difficulty one can work or read without artificial light. There is a great resemblance to the "yellow day" of years ago.

The forests of Cook county have been swept away and the villages are much alarmed for their homes. At Groveton, the people packed their belongings to move. The city of Berlin is entirely surrounded by flames.

In Meredith, the fires are raging and two farm houses were destroyed. In Ashland so dense is the smoke that large quantities of timber have fallen from trees. In Carroll county vast quantities of timber and cut lumber have been burned. In this city miles away from the fires ashes are falling in the streets.

At Littleton, the firemen are kept busy wetting the roofs of houses, as the air is filled with flying embers. The flames did much damage last night in the famous Corbin Park.

VILLAGE DESTROYED.

St. Johns, N. B., June 4—The village of Briggs Corner was destroyed by fire yesterday, only one house and a hall being left. The forest fires are now worse than ever in many sections of New Brunswick. Bonn River, in Charlotte county is reported burned down and fire threatens St. George, At Stanley there is fear that if the wind holds the settlement may be wiped out.

IN THE ADIRONACKS.

Glens Falls, N. Y., June 4—Adirondack fire conditions are again most serious. A private dispatch today says the fires have broken out in Cedar river region. The worst is feared.

Catlin Lake is also ablaze. A big fire is burning near Lonk Lake. A heavy west wind is blowing and carries the smoke and ashes from the Catlin village, 25 miles distant. The surface of the lake is literally covered with ashes for a dozen miles.

SUN OBSCURED.

Springfield, Mass., June 4—Smoke from forest fires in eastern Massachusetts completely obscured the sun today in this vicinity and there was a decided odor of smoke in the air.

SKIES LIGHTED UP.

Millinocket, Me., June 4—The skies are lighted up in every direction and thousands of acres of heavy spruce timber land between Millinocket lake and Mount Katahdin are being destroyed. Yesterday a school house back of the town was burned. The fire north of here spread toward Sherman and it is reported that half the town has been destroyed. The station is gone and the operator is driven out so that communication is cut off, while the railroad station at Crystal. Grindstone and Stacyville are reported to be destroyed and it is also said that Stacyville, being directly in the path of one of the biggest of the fires, has been practically wiped out of existence.

FEAR FOR PARK.

Concord, N. H., June 4—Forest fires in the vicinity of Corbin Park yesterday have caused apprehension for the safety of that celebrated game preserve. A fire in the park would cause tremendous slaughter. Within the preserve are innumerable deer, probably more than 1,000 elk, 146 head of buffalo and countless wild boars.

Bath, Me., June 4—Forest fires in various parts of the state are destroying thousands of acres of spruce timber. The towns of Crystal, Grindstone and Stacyville, in the path of the flames near Mt. Katahdin, are reported destroyed. Wires are down and details are unobtainable.

British imports of live animals from Ireland in March includes 1,948 horses, 15,794 head of cattle, 18,463 sheep and 61,901 hogs.

JETT AND WHITE.

Their Joint Trial for Murder of Lawyer Marcum Has Been Set for Next Monday at Jackson-- Jurors From Another County.

Jackson, Ky., June 4—The joint trial of Jett and White, the accessory principal and the latter as former in the alleged assassination of I. B. Marcum, will begin next Monday Wednesday afternoon Judge Redwine said that date after hearing several motions which were made by Mr. French for the defense. In the interim a jury will be selected from another county within a day's ride of Jackson, and men believe that this county will be Mayo in which adjoins Breathitt county on the northeast. French's contention was that a continuance should be given and no definite time for the trials be set. In support of this contention he introduced two motions one of which was that John B. O'Neal, of Covington, was associated with him in the defense of the prisoners and that he is absent, and that the defense had not definite knowledge when he would return. The other affidavit disclosed the identity of the missing witness by whom the defense say they will prove that it could not have been Jett who fired the shots that killed Marcum.

This valuable witness is E. J. Norton, a deputy sheriff, who it is said, left Jackson shortly before the arrival of the troops and whose present whereabouts are unknown.

TOWNS NEAR NEWARK.

NEWARK

GOT MOST OF THE MONEY IN A CHICKEN FIGHT.

Cocking Main Near Zanesville In Which Birds from Number of Ohio Points Took Part.

Zanesville, O., June 4—A big chicken fight was pulled off within two miles of the city, says the Zanesville Courier which prints the following report: Pittings commenced at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and lasted until 7 in the evening. About 75 lovers of the sport were present from all over the state. Many of them brought their birds with them and others came to back their favorites. It was a state back fight.

The betting was light. About $500 changed hands, the bulk of it going to Newark, with Mt. Vernon a close second. These two towns joined in the match and pooled their interests. There were fifteen fights. Newark and Mt. Vernon birds won eight out of the ten fights in which they were entered. Their birds were in good condition and made game showings. The Newark devotees of the pastime were not bold enough to bet on their birds against Zanesville's. The Zanesville birds have a great reputation and it takes a plunger to bet much against them. The Newark people knew this and placed their money very carefully. Accordingly they did not carry off the long green to such a great extent.

The Zanesville contingent did not have their best birds in the fight. On the contrary they fought the stale fowls that had been pitted last winter. Zanesville sportsmen did not back their birds heavily, as they were not confident of winning with the material used. Out of the ten fights in which the Zanesville cocks were entered, six were won and four were lost. Corning had seven chickens entered and lost a bunch of money since they won but two out of the seven pittings.

Shawnee was not present with birds, but backed their favorites to some extent. Some of the Dresden followers of the feathers attended the function and enjoyed themselves. They had no birds entered. A delegation from Cambridge was also present. Representatives from many of the cities throughout the state came to Zanesville for the hack fight.

Among the many cities represented were Cambridge, Corning, Shawnee, Dresden, Columbus, Circleville, Athens, Newcomertown, Zanesville, Newark and Mt. Vernon.

Many of the visitors left for their homes Monday night and others departed Tuesday. All spoke in the highest terms of the Zanesville people who gave the fight and expressed a desire to come again. The Zanesville sports had arranged for everything and the visitors were entertained royally.

THE MILLER TRIAL.

Columbus, O., June 4—The trial of Joseph P. Miller in the United States Court on the charge of using the mails to blackmail, developed some sensational features. Several well known men took refuge behind the statute that permits a witness to ignore questions the truthful answers to which would incriminate them matchwyp would tend to incriminate themselves. The defense called Anna T. Miller, the wife of the defendant, who is now serving a term in the penitentiary for complicity in the crime with which her husband is charged.

Colonel Bundy objected to her evidence on the ground that she is the accused's wife, and was sustained by the Court, whereupon, to the surprise of every one, the defense rested without having offered so much as a scrap of testimony. Arguments followed. The jury was charged today.

JUSTIFIED

Was the Shooting of Oldfield, Says Governor Lanham, in Pardoning Milton Young.

Dallas, Tex., June 4—The most remarkable language ever used by a Governor of Texas in pardoning a convict is that employed by Governor Lanham in the case of Milton Young, who on May 8, 1901, walked into a restaurant at Arlington and without any warning, shot dead J. B. Oldfield, a school teacher, at a table at which he was eating. Young was recently convicted of murder and given a term in the penitentiary. His defense was that he was justified in killing Oldfield, because the latter had betrayed his only sister, a girl in her teens and one of his pupils.

Governor Lanham, in his official proclamation closes with this unusual language:

"The deceased had been on intimate terms of friendship with the family of the applicant and that of his father, and such a base and brutal betrayal of confidence and friendship deserved death at the hands of the applicant."

Governor Lanham himself was a district school teacher in Texas 30 years ago, before he entered politics and public life.

CROWD

Greeted President Roosevelt at Springfield, Ill., Thursday Where He Delivered an Address.

Springfield, Ill., June 4—President Roosevelt arrived in Springfield this morning from Bloomington. An enormous crowd was at the station to greet the chief executive. Immediately after the train arrived the President was escorted by federal and state troops to the Lincoln monument in Oakridge. Here the Lincoln-McKinley memorial association members were addressed by the President who spoke briefly in laudation of the efforts the members are making to perpetuate the memories of two great Americans. Later he went to Decatur.

HERRICK AND HARDING.

There are concerned one would not know that anybody was to be placed in nomination outside of the second place on the ticket. The Guilbert interests have coppered everything in sight and since they succeeded in getting third place on the ticket at the Supreme Judgeship, they do not appear to fear any onslaught that may be made by Gillett and his bustling bunch of rosters.

"There is no doubt that Gillett is picking up votes here and there, but with the large counties against him there is no chance for his nomination. Colonel Gillett's personality appeals to the countless numbers who visit his headquarters. He is given every assurance that sympathy is with him in his fight against third termism, but these self-same persons are prompt to say that their hands are tied by powers above them.

"Auditor Guilbert is surrounded by the subordinates in his office and inasmuch as they come from all sections of the state the followers who flock to his room meet with personal acquaintances. The fight for the nomination of Supreme Judge is lively between Judge Summers, Springfield, and Attorney General Sheets.

"In view of the fact that Auditor Guilbert seems quite certain of a nomination an interesting bit of gossip has leaked out. Less than two weeks ago, Mr. Guilbert, alarmed by the anti-third-term agitation, consulted his friends as to the advisability of withdrawing from the race for Auditor and announcing his candidacy for Lieutenant Governorship. He was advised to stay in the race in which he had started, and finally decided to do so, though he was in uncertainty for several days. When he contemplated the change he explained that he did not care for the emoluments of office so much as the honor of remaining a state official."

One thousand pounds was paid the other day in London by an orchid collector for a plant that originally cost the importer 1 shilling and 6 pence. It had developed uncommon blood-red markings on white.

WALL PAPER FASHIONS

Many Novelties to Be Seen in Styles For 1904.

STRIKING DESIGNS AND COLORINGS

One Shows a Perspective Effect of Walling Roses Behind Lattice-work. Another Represents a Canadian Forest of Spruce Trees—A Special Baseball Paper Being Manufactured.

Ever since fashion invaded the realm of wall paper several years ago and decreed that the covering of one's walls should change almost with the seasons the shop windows in New York have shown at half yearly intervals the strange and new wall paper conceits offered by enterprising manufacturers, says the New York Evening World.

Already the styles for 1904 have begun to make their appearance, and enough have been shown to prove that this year the expert designers have permitted their fancy the fullest range and that New York houses next season will be fairly bewildering in the strange designs and colorings of their walls.

Perhaps the most remarkable novelty is the "perspective" wall paper, a combination of trailing roses and unrelieved lattice-work so arranged on each of the four sides of the room as to produce the effect of a long vista. This design, though pretty, would be apt to produce an effect of mental bewilderment if looked at too long. A simpler and more beautiful effect is that which combines a dado made to imitate natural wood and a crown of tall evergreens, which produce the illusion of a dense Canadian forest of spruce trees.

The natural wood papers, reproduced from long planks of the real wood, are especially good in library and dining room decoration. Another design has the dado of birdseye maple and a crown showing an elaborate aquatic scene, in which sailing vessels, windmills and long lines of coast are effectively combined, with the gleam of red roofs in the distance.

The sporting papers, introduced for the first time last year, show a new design portraying a gay coaching party whirling down a dense, leafy roadway. Golf, tennis and pingpong papers are notable among this collection, and a Buffalo firm is getting out a special baseball paper so that enthusiastic fans will hereafter be able to have their walls covered with portraits of their favorite players. Needless to say, these exceedingly novel papers are used chiefly for dens and clubrooms, and more conventional designs still obtain for the drawing room and the boudoir.

Among the less freaky novelties is one patterned after a design used in the decoration of the Wadsworth country seat in Genesee valley, New York, in which seventeen different colors were used. The design originated in France, but the foreign manufacturers refused to reproduce it when called upon, as many of the seventeen colors used had to be painted in by hand. A piece of the paper reached the hands of a New York manufacturer, who successfully reproduced it, thus reaching the high water mark of color reproduction by machinery.

Very expensive are the paper imitations of hand tooled leather, which are late novelties for library decoration. They sell at from $8 to $15 a roll and were recently introduced extensively in the redecoration of Harold Villard's home in New York.

Another interesting design is a reproduction of an old paper which had hung for 200 years on the walls of the old Livingston mansion at Catskill Landing, which was recently manufactured by special order of Henry Livingston.

The famous Mackay rose paper used in the large hall at Roslyn, N. Y., has been so extensively copied throughout the country in clubs, hotels and elsewhere that Mr. Clarence Mackay recently wrote a letter to the manufacturers saying that he intended to have it torn from the walls and a new and more exclusive design substituted.

Cutting a Great Diamond.

A syndicate has been formed in Amsterdam which will bear the great expense and risk attending cutting of what is the largest diamond known, the Excelsior, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. The Excelsior was found at the Jagersfontein diamond mines in 1893. It is the size of a hen's egg and weighs in its present raw state 970 carats, which is nearly twice as much as the Kohinoor weighed before it was reduced to its present size. Specially constructed machinery has to be employed for cutting the Excelsior, and great care is used in insuring its safety from theft.

The Daily Torture.

What is this of woe we hear, This cry of anguish here, That rends the morning atmosphere Without our cottage door?

Is it some soul in agony, Some one in mighty grief, Ah, listen! Let us go and see If we can give relief.

But, hold! There is no one in sight, And yet that doleful cry Comes keening with intensest might And ending with a sigh.

Is it some banshee wild and weird That seeks its haunts by day? Is it some wraith that should be feared Which harrows us this way?

Now nearer comes the shivering wall, And louder grows the sound, Small wonder cheeks are growing pale And hearts begin to bound.

He comes! Just at the corner there! Quick! In before he sees! It is the wren who splits the air With yells of "STROBE-BUR-R-REF-E-E-S!" —Chicago Tribune.

PATTI AND HER TOUR.

Famous Singer Chats About Her Forthcoming Visit.

EAGER TO RETURN TO AMERICA.

Tells How She Loved Cry of Old New York's Ice Cream Man and Recalls the Fact That Her Girlhood Days Were Spent in the United States. Secrets of Her Remarkable Health.

Mme. Adelina Patti, the famous singer, who sails for the United States Oct. 24, is in fine spirits. She is wonderfully young in appearance and is as vivacious and full of energy as ever. She now dresses her hair in a broad, flat wave from the temples, which marks all the more strongly the resemblance of this wonderful woman to her portraits painted nearly forty years ago. Her skin is smooth and her complexion clear, with not even a trace of powder. As we walked up and down in the sunshine on the terrace in front of her castle at Craig-y-Nos in south Wales she talked of her forthcoming tour, writes William Armstrong, the London correspondent of the New York American and Journal.

"You know," she said, "this is the first time I myself have used the word 'farewell' in connection with an American tour. People have said to me on former visits, 'Well, Mme. Patti, this is your farewell tour?' And I have replied: 'Who said so? I didn't.' Each time it has been my manager who had his own views on the financial wisdom of such a statement.

"I'm looking forward eagerly for my return. Remember, I spent my girlhood in America. Traces of association have stuck to me, and how often have I been told that I look like an American!"

"Many of my closest friends are in America, and some of my happiest recollections are associated with my childhood in New York and the days when I used to listen for the call of the ice cream man in Twenty-first street, where I lived with my sister.

"What changes have taken place in the city since then and what a change in the modes of travel! Now I go about in my private car, which I think I shall name Craig-y-Nos. In my childhood when I traveled from city to city my father would turn the seat over, bundle me up in a shawl and let me go to sleep. Perhaps we arrived at our journey's end late at night. There was no supper to be had at such hours in the old days, so I supped on bread and cheese and water. But I was always happy if they would let me have my doll.

"Thanksgiving day, 1859, I made my operatic debut at the Academy of Music, New York, in 'Lucia.' That dear old Academy! How I love it! I'm so glad they have not pulled it down. For sentiment's sake I should like to make my last appearance there. I think they should let me, don't you? It is a lovely place to sing in. The Metropolitan is good, but is not so good as the Auditorium in Chicago, and the dear old Academy is best of all. The tenor who should have sung with me on my debut night in 'Lucia' refused in a bored way. He said he had been singing a great deal recently and really he couldn't appear. 'I'll sing with Adelina,' said Brignoli, who himself had been singing nearly every night that week, and sing he did.

"What a reception I had that night! The following year I made my London debut. It is forty-three years since I first sang in England. Every year since there has been the same loyalty. I am singing twice on my way to the steamship, the second time the very night before sailing from Liverpool.

"I am most anxious for my husband to visit America. He is an acute observer and will be deeply interested in the vastness, and the variety will be a revelation to him. I especially want the baron to visit the White House. "I have made no suggestions at all about the artists accompanying me and have so stated in all letters to those applying to accompany me that the matter is resting with Mr. Grau. Among the numbers I shall sing are 'Erani,' 'Trivoli,' Verdi; Wagner's 'Traume' and the prayer of Elizabeth from 'Tannhauser.' One of my encores will be 'My Old Kentucky Home.' It is a dear old song."

"When I spoke to Patti of her wonderfully young appearance and the phenomenal preservation of her voice she answered smilingly: 'I say that other God has forgotten me, as there is such a lot of bad people, or he loves me so much he lets me keep my powers. The other day I got a letter from a Spanish woman in Gibraltar telling me that she was twenty-eight and was getting wrinkled and losing her looks. She declared that she was devoted to her husband and was losing her hold on his affections. She wrote: 'You can save me. I know you are sixty and haven't a wrinkle; send me the recipe, and I'll never tell it.'"

"When I left Craig-y-Nos Patti followed my trap across the castle courtyard and, standing under the gateway—a girlish figure—her gray gown caught up to walking length in the back with a silver chain, there she continued to jump up and down gaily waving her parasol by way of goodbye until my trap turned the bend in the road.

TRUST METHODS.
(Toledo Bee.)

The most peculiar trust in existence is the International Harvester Company, which manufactures all sorts of farm machinery. It is peculiar in that it depends for its success upon its independence of other trusts.
The International controls about 90 per cent of the implement business, and it is meeting with success, as it produces the raw material used in the machinery manufactures.
The other manufacturers, however, are in a sad plight. They claim they are at the mercy of 33 trusts and that they are held up to such an extent that they can not do business at a profit.
An appeal is to be made to President Roosevelt for relief. Of course it will not be answered. The sacred tariff will never be disturbed so long as the present administration is in power. Hardly. But the appeal will be decidedly interesting, and it will give the people something to think about. Following is a list of the thirty-three trusts that are making the harvester manufacturers pay tribute:
Standard Oil Company.
Iron Tubing Trust.
Spoke and Rim Trust.
Wire Nail Trust.
Rope and Twine Trust.
Paper Box Trust.
White Lead Trust.
Bolt Combination.
Rivet Combination.
Belting (or Leather) Combination.
Lumber Combination.
Paint Brush Combination.
Link Chain Combination.
Spring Cotter Combination.
Emery Wheel Combination.
Electrical Machinery Combination.
Foundry Core Flour Combination.
Borax Combination.
Salt Combination.
File Combination.
Window Glass Combination.
Rubber Combination.
Woodworking Machinery Combination.
Pig Iron Combination.
Steel Spring Combination.
Wire Tube Combination.
Screw Combination.
Steel Saw Combination.
Sand Paper Combination.
Solder Combination.
Steel Wheel Combination.
Coal Combine.
Railway Combine.

The manufacturers are no worse off than the people generally. The trusts are reaching into the pockets of all of us and there is no help for it. There will not be any help for it until the nation returns to Democratic principles.

WHITEHOUSE MORE PRIVATE
East Room and Terrace Only Parts to be Open to Public.
It is the present intention to close the north grounds of the White House to the public as soon as the improvements now being made are finished, says a Washington dispatch to the New York World.
This was talked of during the reconstruction of the White House, but the president hesitated to put the order into effect through fear of a storm of public disapproval. Since the completion of the east terrace, through which visitors enter and leave the east room, the historic north door of the mansion has been used as a private entrance, but people have been allowed to wander around the grounds as formerly.
Mrs. Roosevelt and the children, especially Miss Alice, have been annoyed at times by people in the grounds peering through the front door and the windows of the private dining room, and it is understood to be in response to their appeal that the grounds are to be closed when the driveway now being put down is completed.
The carriage gates will be closed, and policemen will be stationed at the smaller gates to keep out every one but members of the president's family and their callers and personal friends. The changes that are now being made will be finished before July 1.
Visitors to the White House then will be admitted to the east room for four hours in the day, as now, but they will enter and leave through the east terrace, and that is all of the White House and its surroundings they will be able to see at close range. The north grounds will then be as private as the south grounds have been made under Mr. Roosevelt. The north grounds have never been closed to the public. President Cleveland closed the south grounds during his second administration because, he said, the people passing through annoyed the children. Mr. McKinley threw them open again, and they remained open until Mr. Roosevelt came in.

HOAR ON NATIONAL SONGS.

Senator Calls "God Save the King" Cheap and Vulgar.
At the annual woman suffrage festival the other night in Boston a letter was read from Senator George F. Hoar, speaking the New York Times, in which, speaking of national anthems, he said: "Is there anything more cheap and vulgar than the national anthem of our English brethren, 'God Save the King'?"

"O Lord, our God, arise,
Scatter his enemies
And make them fall!
Confound their politics,
Frustrate their knavish tricks,
On him our hopes we fix,
God save us all!"

"England, I hope, knows better now. But she has acted on that motto for a thousand years."

"New England's anthem, 'The Breaking Waves Dashed High,' one of the noblest poems in all literature, was written by a woman. We waited eighty years for our American national anthem. At last God inspired an illustrious and noble woman to utter in undying verse the thought which we hope is forever to animate the soldiers of the republic."

"Julia Ward Howe cannot yet vote in America, but her words will be an inspiration to the youth of America on many a hard fought field for liberty many a century after her successors will vote."

Worst of All Experiences.

Can anything be worse than to feel that every minute will be your last? Such was the experience of Mrs. S. H. Newton, Decatur, Ala. "For three years," she writes, "I endured insupportable pain from indigestion, stomach and bowel trouble. Death seemed inevitable when doctors and all remedies failed. At length I was induced to try Electric Bitters and the result was miraculous. I improved at once and now I'm completely recovered." For Liver, Kidney, Stomach and Bowel troubles Electric Bitters is the only medicine. 50 cents. It's guaranteed by Frank D. Hall, druggist.

Das Rum.

Ray rum is manufactured from the dried leaves of Pinus acris. Ray rum is procured by distillation and this in a very simple manner. The leaves are picked from the trees and then dried. In this state they are placed in the report, which is then filled with water, and the process of distillation is carried on. The vapor is then condensed in the usual way and forms what is known as "bay oil," a very small quantity of which is required for each punchon of rum.

ANTARCTIC DISCOVERY.

Map of Sir Jas. Ross Wrong--Explorer Said to Have Mistaken Land for Water According to Records of Exploration of Discovery Party.

Lieutenant E. H. Shackleton of the antarctic exploring ship Discovery, when asked recently at San Francisco whether the expedition's researches had furnished any material evidence to support the theory that the Antarctic is a continent or an archipelago, seemingly evaded the question, but remarked later that the question was one that the public would be able to decide for itself after carefully considering the results of the explorations of the Discovery party. It is known, however, that the records of exploration will show many interesting facts, among them being these, says the New York Herald:

That Sir James Ross mistook water for land and that material changes will have to be made in the map prepared by him.

That the results of experiments made by the Discovery party at the various stations built for the purposes of recording magnetism in the different latitudes will furnish valuable new knowledge for the people of England, Germany, Russia, France and the United States, who are deeply interested in the subject.

That interesting developments have also been made in the marine biology of the antarctic circle and additional knowledge gained of the physical and chemical analysis of different substances found there.

Of botany the party has had little opportunity to study, for Lieutenant Shackleton states that few, if any, plants exist that far south or at least the explorers could not find evidence of them. The geographical discoveries will also serve interesting matter in the reports to the Royal Geographical association.

"If our dogs had not died," said Lieutenant Shackleton, "we should have got much farther south than we did. I am taking back reports of the expedition with my diary and the five copies of the South Polar Times, which was published farther south than has been any other magazine. The first edition was issued and read by the members of the party, nearly all of whom contributed to it, on March 23, 1902, when the sun left us, and was succeeded by editions on the 23d of each month until Aug. 23, when the sun reappeared. The period of darkness lasted 121 days."

"Lieutenant Amundsen, who is a big man physically, had one of the most thrilling experiences of the expedition. He fell twenty feet and was caught by his harness on a rolling piece of ice. If he had fallen a short distance farther he would have dropped 2,500 feet. He was fished up all right and saved."

VEGETABLE SHOES.

A Vegetarian Society Will Send to London For the Novel Footwear.
Members of the New York Vegetarian society discussed with much enthusiasm at their meeting, held in the Lockwood academy at 138 South Oxford street, Brooklyn, the other evening, a plan to wear boots and shoes made of vegetables, says the New York Herald. Those present were so much in favor of the plan that it was decided to send to London and obtain specimens of the vegetable footwear.

Opposition to the slaughter of animals for the use of their skins is one of the principles of the society. About 200 persons were present, many of them women.

In describing the vegetable shoe for winter wear one of the speakers said that it was made of "leatherine" and was excellent protection against cold weather. He said that an attempt had already been made to establish the shoe in London, where, it is said, it has become popular with some members of the vegetarian society in that city.

The vegetable shoe for summer, it was explained, was composed of grass and was remarkable for its coolness and comfort. It is shaped like a sand-

"Thomas Vance, the man who went over the ice precipice and was drowned, had a dramatic drop. The glacier which was being sealed by a party of men was of blue ice as smooth as glass. One of the men had started back to get a pair of fur boots. Some men had to go to his assistance, and in the scramble a number of them slipped and started down the smooth, steep incline toward the brink of the precipice. Most of them and, in fact, all of them, before it was too late succeeded in stopping themselves by pulling out their knives and digging them into the ice."

"Vance, however, had too much of a start to save himself. He had on fur boots, which made no resistance to ice, and as it was blowing a blizzard, his drop looked to be certain from the first. He went over the eighty foot precipice with a scream. We tried for hours to get his body from the ocean, but we never saw it again."

"At one time twelve men were blown into the ocean by the wind, but were all saved. Clarence Hare, a New Zealander, was overcome by the cold on a Tuesday afternoon and went to sleep in the snow. He was all alone and we did not know where he was. The snow drifted over him and he slept from that afternoon until the following Tuesday morning, when he awoke and started out and found us. We had given him up for lost. In some ways that was a record breaking sleep."

"After the dogs died we had to pull the sledges ourselves. It was awfully hard work and very wearying. The dogs had to be fed canned stuff, which must in some way have become moist in shipping it, for it became covered with green mold and sickened them."

"We were able to take observations all the time we were on the long sledge trip, which brought us within six degrees and forty minutes of the pole, and I am carrying back valuable data. I am not at liberty to talk regarding the specimens which the expedition has secured, but they are most valuable."

"I was taken from the Discovery by the Morning, which brought us out supplies from England. The Morning will return from England next December with more supplies for the Discovery, which is still in the ice. The Discovery, as she lies imbedded in the ice now, is in no danger, and all on board are comfortable. She will have more gun cotton and longer electric fuses taken back to her. They are what must be depended upon to free her. The electric fuses which we took with us were not long enough to successfully use in the ice while blasting."

dal. The advantage of both the summer and winter vegetable footwear was pointed out by enthusiastic members of the society.

Drawing a Shad.

Boneless shad is the latest luxury of the well spread American dinner table. The high salaried and accomplished cook now practices a sleight of hand trick by which the fish is laid open and its entire bony structure is lifted out by means of a single deft twist of the wrist. This is called drawing the shad, and a French chef who never saw one of these fish until a couple of years ago was the first to practice the boning trick and to teach it in his restaurant kitchen.

HOT SHOTS

POURED BY GILLETT MEN INTO THE OPPOSITION

Before Convention Opened Today Newark Man and His Friends Felt Hopeful of Results.

Columbus, June 4—Another big delegation from Newark accompanied by the Buckeye Band came over again this morning on the interurban to whoop it up for Gillett. The Newarkites made themselves known yesterday but today's crowd from Licking's capital was larger and noisier than that of yesterday. They are boosting Gillett in splendid style and are attracting no little attention.

Last night Colonel Gillett said: "I find that the feeling against a third term in office is very strong in Ohio, and growing, and, unless I mistake, the opposition will be emphasized in tomorrow's convention."

"I had nothing to do with the paper display on the city bill boards, in opposition to a third term, and know nothing about it. But I do know that delegates have been coming to my room for two days and telling me that in spite of instructions they will support me tomorrow."

"I am feeling good over the situation. I am growing stronger every hour."

In a neat little folder printed for the purpose of keeping tab on the ballots, the Gillett people put in a few straight punches this morning. The folder carries a splendid picture of the Newark candidate and one page reads as follows:

LEST WE FORGET.

Bear in Mind

1. That there is a strong sentiment in Ohio against the nomination of a third term.
2. That there are thousands of Republicans in Ohio who will not vote for a third term.
3. That Blackburn as a candidate for a third term ran 41,000 behind his ticket.
4. That the brilliant and popular Foraker was defeated as candidate for Governor for a third term.
5. That the nomination of a third term will weaken the ticket and endanger the legislature.
6. That a third term may make a good officer but a poor candidate.
7. That sixteen consecutive years in one office ought to satisfy the ambition of any reasonable man.

These pasteboard folders were scattered about by the thousands this morning:

It is said at the Gillett headquarters that one of the Cuyahoga county delegates called upon Mr. Gillett and said he was authorized by Senator Hanna to say that the delegation would be equally divided between Mr. Guilbert and himself, which means 54 votes to the Gillett column, if the arrangement is carried out.

While no figures were given out at the Gillett headquarters, it is claimed they have 300 votes in sight for their candidate. The anti-third-term argument has been won strongly and it has appealed to many of the delegates. On the other hand Auditor Guilbert this morning says confidently that he will be the nominee for state auditor.

His Last Hope Realized.

(From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.)
In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made to him one fine day in April. During his travels about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was lying about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little worked a complete cure, and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by all druggists.

WAITERS

Took Off Aprons and Quit, Forcing Some People to Go Hungry or Eat Fruit Alone.

Chicago, June 1—Carrying out the threat made last night, hundreds of waiters employed in many downtown restaurants took off their aprons shortly before the noon hour and forced thousands of workers who had not provided themselves with lunches from home, to make raids on the fruit stands and saloon lunch counters. Dishes were dropped where men stood, orders of customers were unfilled and tables were left uncleaned. The men want more pay and shorter hours.

PROTEST

AGAINST RUTHLESS KILLING OF GAME BIRDS

And Also of Songsters by Gangs of Italian Workmen Along the B. & O. Railroad.

(Communicated.)

Editor Advocate—I would like space in your columns to enter a protest to the State Game and Fish Warden, J. C. Porterfield, against the ruthless killing of game birds and animals, and also of songsters, that is being practiced by the gangs of Italian laborers at work on the B. & O. railroad line between this city and Barnesville. A citizen of Newark who has occasion to frequently pass along this route, told me that each camp of these laborers is supplied with from one to six antiquated shotguns, and that on Sundays the slaughter of furred and feathered creatures is fearful. At one camp he knew of 1000 robins being cooked for dinner; at another camp seven rabbits were observed, dressed for the pot, some of the females having been almost ready to give birth to four or five young. Quails, Mongolian and native pheasants at this time of the year, are easy of approach, it being their nesting period, and these birds are being killed with stones and clubs in large numbers, instances being known of the hens being taken from their nests, thus insuring the destruction of twelve to sixteen young birds yet unhatched.

This is a matter it would be well for local sportsmen to look after at once, as this devastation is taking place upon some of the best hunting lands in Ohio, that lying from four to five miles upon each side of the B. & O. railroad. In this connection it might not be amiss to call attention to the fact that Licking county has been without a county warden for some time, and it is now up to the State Deputy to provide some means for protecting both the game and the sportsmen of this region. If the law is to be violated in such a flagrant manner by gangs of immigrant laborers, wherein lies the justice to the men who help by their dog licenses and other sources of taxation, to keep the game of the state in good shape? Confiscate the guns of these men, warn their foremen as to future violations of the game laws, and then enforce them to their fullest extent.

MOB

Rode Into Town and Smashed Three Saloons Firing a Thousand Shots Thursday.

Houston, Tex., June 4—A mob of 50 or more masked men rode into Brookshire early this morning and destroyed three saloons. One thousand shots were fired. The fixtures and glassware in the saloons were raided and then broken to pieces. The destruction was complete before the mob dispersed. No person was hurt. Prohibition recently won in the county, but under injunctions the saloonmen continued to operate. The mob rode into town from the country and met no resistance.

A prominent Southern lady, Mrs. Blanchard, of Nashville, Tenn., tells how she was cured of backache, dizziness, painful and irregular periods by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Gratitude compels me to acknowledge the great merit of your Vegetable Compound. I have suffered for four years with irregular and painful menstruation, also dizziness, pains in the back and lower limbs, and fits of sleep. I dreaded the time to come when I should have to leave my home. The six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me health and happiness in a few short months, and was worth more than months under the doctor's care, which really did not benefit me at all. I feel like another person now. My aches and pains have left me. I am satisfied there is no medicine so good for sick women as your Vegetable Compound, and I advocate it to my lady friends in need of medical help."

THE CROPS

THROUGHOUT OHIO IN VERY GOOD CONDITION.

Wheat Good in North and East, but There is Complaint of Rust in the Southeast.

The following is the Ohio crop bulletin for the week.

The temperature was high during the first of the week, but cool toward the end. Rain has fallen on nearly every day in most sections. The fall has not been excessive except in a few localities in the central northern counties there has not been quite enough rain to moisten the ground properly. High winds, lightning and hail have caused local damage in the northwestern, central and southwestern counties.

The planting of corn has been delayed in a few instances by heavy rains, but generally much plowing and planting has been done. The work is not completed, however, in any district. Early planted corn is coming fairly well, and cultivation has begun. In places it is too wet to cultivate and the fields are very weedy.

Wheat is heading, most correspondents reporting the straw rather short. The condition continues good in northern and eastern counties, but there is much complaint of rust in the southwest and the prospect is less encouraging there. There is some fly in southwestern and central northern counties also.

Oats are short, but making marked improvement. Barley is fair. Rye is good in central and southwestern counties, but not so promising in the northwestern. Grass and pastures are improving fast, though most correspondents in southern counties predict a light hay crop.

Potatoes and gardens are doing well. Blackberries are very promising. Cherries indicate a small crop. Grapes are good. Peaches are not plentiful. The correspondent on Catawba Island reports that the peach crop will be light there. The leaf curl is affecting peach trees in central and northern districts. The high wind has blown off many apples in western counties.

INDICTED

For Murder and Four Hours Later Barnes Married a Prominent Society Girl.

Mexico, Mo., June 4—Clarence A. Barnes, a prominent young attorney this city, was indicted for second degree murder Wednesday and four hours later was married to Miss Ruth Lakeman, one of the city's most prominent society girls.

Barnes was admitted to $10,000 bail. On July 10, 1902, Barnes became involved in a street battle with state representative Rhodes Clay in which pistols were the weapons. Clay was mortally wounded and Barnes was slightly injured.

A former grand jury failed to indict Barnes and it was again brought up at the present term of court.

Fad Among the Feminine Smart Set of Newport is Hair Down the Back.

Newport, R. I., June 4—Hair down the back is the latest fad of the feminine smart set in this city.

Miss Natia Rives, Miss Nathalie Schenck and Miss Cynthia Roche, who are leaders in local society, have set the fashion and it is being rapidly followed by the women who appreciate that this method has at least the merit of coolness.

The method is to throw away the hairpins and return to the vari-colored ribbons and braided "pig tails" of childhood. Miss Schenck was bridemaid at the Vanderbilt-Nelson wedding.

MINERS

Have Departed for Their Homes—is a Strike Possible the Leading Question.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 4—Nearly all of the miners have departed for their respective homes, but declared before leaving that it was their ultimate intention to follow the plans arranged and hold a joint convention.

Nothing can prevent the latter unless the operators agree to accept the credentials of the miners' representative and that is improbable unless there is a complete change of feeling. Is a strike possible? This is the question agitating the average mind and causes some uneasiness and deep concern among the business men. Conservative mine workers say that it is a very remote possibility and impartial observers declare that a struggle over such a question is possible. The operators cannot afford it.

WILLIE

Though Exonerated by Coroner's Jury Will be Sent to Reform School. Killed a Child.

Plainfield, N. J., June 4—Although exonerated by the coroner's jury from deliberately murdering his little playmate, Theresa Watson, Willie James will not be permitted to return home. He has been incorrigible for some time and his mother has consented to his confinement to a reform school. Willie, who is nine years old, told the jury how the shooting occurred. He said that Theresa was sitting on a bank of earth and he was playing with his rifle, when it exploded. He tied the child's hand which was slightly wounded up with a rag, but claimed not to know that the bullet lodged in her abdomen. Willie's younger sister, Ethel, corroborated his testimony and the physician who attended Theresa declared one bullet might have inflicted the two wounds. The jury, by its verdict, accused Willie of gross carelessness and it was decided to send him to a reform school.

How Blisters are Raised. A blister is the vesicle, or bladder, which is formed by an effusion of serum—the watery portion of the blood—underneath the scarf, or outer skin. Any such powerful irritant as boiling water may produce blisters, and we may regard their formation as an effort of nature to protect the true and acutely sensitive inner skin from attack.

The fact speaks for itself, but the reason for this injurious action of scalding water has a much deeper seat. Our blood vessels are supplied with nerves, and the stimulation of these causes in some cases dilatation and in others contraction. Any excessive stimulus will cause paralysis of the muscular coat of the vessels and consequent stagnation of the blood in these parts, and then their nutrition is impaired.

It is owing to the condition thus induced by scalding water that the serum oozes through the vessel wall and makes its way into the surrounding tissue. This raises the upper and insensible skin into a blister, which probably takes its name from the Anglo-Saxon blæstan, to blast or puff.

The Flight of Time.

One day "Uncle Chet" Thomas drove out to South Topeka to sell a man a horse. The man was no judge of horseflesh and knew it. So after looking the animal over he told "Uncle Chet" to come out again in about ten days. "A friend of mine who knows a horse when he sees it will be here then," he said, "and I'll see what he thinks. And, by the way," he added, "how old did you say the horse was?" "Seven years old comin' February," said "Uncle Chet" as he gathered up the reins and drove away. "Uncle Chet" drove out to South Topeka again. The prospective purchaser was there, and after looking the horse in the mouth asked his age. "Twelve years old this spring," replied "Uncle Chet," smiling blandly. "But," broke in the man who wanted to buy the horse, "you told me ten days ago that he was only seven." "So I did," squeaked "Uncle Chet"—"so I did. My, how time does fly!"—Topeka Capital.

A SOLAR MOTOR.

Possibly a Practical Solution of the Sun Power Problem.

Many attempts have been made at various times to use solar heat as a source of power. A century or more ago great burning glasses were constructed both in France and England which developed a heat intense enough to melt iron, gold and silver. At the Paris exposition of 1878 an exhibit that attracted much attention was a sun engine which furnished the power for a printing press.

At last a practical solution of the problem seems to have been reached. There has been set up on Edwin Cavston's ostrich farm at Pasadena, Cal., a contrivance which performs its work regularly and with certainty. From one hour and a half after sunrise to half an hour before sunset it drives a ten horse power engine, raising fourteen hundred gallons of water twelve feet per minute. This is enough to irrigate about 500 acres of deciduous trees or 300 acres planted with orange trees.

The solar motor is in shape like a section of a huge umbrella of very substantial construction, having a diameter of twenty-three feet at its widest part and of fifteen feet at its narrowest. The whole inside surface is covered with mirrors, each two feet long by three and one-half inches wide. Nearly 2,000 of these long, narrow mirrors catch the sun's rays and reflect their heat upon a slim boiler just where the handle of the umbrella would be.

The great reflector is set like an astronomical telescope. It is so nicely adjusted that one person can easily move it in either direction. The boiler is thirteen and one-half feet long and holds 100 gallons of water. When the reflector is not working, the boiler is quite inconspicuous, but when the concentrated heat from the mirrors is focused on it it gleams like polished silver. In a little while it becomes so hot that a stick held against it smokes and bursts into flame. In about an hour steam is generated and is conveyed through a flexible metal pipe to the cylinder of the steam engine, being thereafter used in the ordinary manner.—Sunset Magazine.

Buttons That Grow.

No, the ivory buttons you wear do not represent the death of an elephant in the wilds of Africa, your pearl buttons were probably never nearer than you took them to the shell of a bivalve mollusk and the probabilities are that no rubber tree was ever tapped to produce the hard rubber buttons that adorn your overcoat. Down in Central America there is a fruit producing palm that has quite metamorphosed the button business and formed the nucleus for one of the most important industries in the United States. The seed of this fruit contains a milk that is sweet to the taste and relished by the natives. The milk when allowed to remain in the nut long enough becomes indurated and turns into substance as brittle and hard as the ivory from the elephant's tusk. The plant that produces these nuts is called the ivory palm. Most of the buttons now used in America, whether termed ivory, pearl, rubber, horn or bone, come from this ivory palm. Thus the probabilities are that your buttons are made from a vegetable milk, and they grow on bushes.

The British Crown.

When King Edward went to Italy he met, according to the London Chronicle, a king who is more of a Stuart than himself. Both are descended from James I., but the king of Italy is also, through his mother, eleventh in descent from Charles I. In strict right Victor Emmanuel has more claim to the British crown than Edward VII. But for their Catholic religion the Savoy would have been installed to rule over England, and not the Brunsvicks, when the Stuarts were evicted. After the children of James II., the next in blood was the Duchess of Savoy, daughter of Henrietta, the youngest child of Charles I. But she was not a Protestant and so was debarred. Thus it was that the British crown was passed to the house of Brunswick by the act of settlement in 1701. Otherwise the Savoy would now be the royal family.

The Brighton Walking Match.

The famous walking match from London to Brighton held by the members of the London Stock Exchange on May 1 brought out some varied and interesting costumes. One broker started in faultless afternoon dress, light trousers, frock coat, high hat, gloves and a stick. As it poured rain most of the day he must have been a sight at the finish. Others wore loose tweeds. A very few wore knickerbockers and a majority wore regular running suits. The winner, E. F. Broad, did the fifty-two miles in 9h. 30m. and 1s. The amateur record is 8h. 54m. and 44s.; the professional, Th. 54m. and 16s.

Belgium's Military System.

The new Belgian military system, established on the basis of voluntary conscription, has already proved a failure. Notwithstanding the active efforts of the enlistment committees but few volunteers have come forward during the last year, and over half of the men who offered their services were found upon examination to be physically unfit for military service. According to local military authorities, the small pay given is the main cause of the unpopularity of the service, the soldier getting only a franc a day.

DATE PALM CULTURE.

Plan For Growing the Tree In Deserts of Southern California.

Date palms will be waving their scrawny arms over the deserts of southern California and a new industry will soon be founded if a grand project of the United States department of agriculture and the Agricultural college of California, now under way, turns out as successfully as the men having to do with it confidently believe it will turn out, says a San Francisco special to the St. Louis Republic.

Professor A. J. Pieters recently arrived at the University of California from the department of agriculture at Washington. He is the head of the department of seed and plant introduction and distribution and in that capacity directs the gathering and dispensing of seeds and plants from all over the world. Two men under him do nothing but travel over the face of the earth to collect seeds and plants and data for this purpose. They keep in touch with him, send their collections to him, and he does the rest.

Now, Professor Pieters went to California especially to look into the proposed culture of the date palm in the southern California deserts. For a long time the agriculturists have had their eyes on those great wastes, thinking of the great natural possibilities for date culture. The land is boundlessly wealthy, having stored up in it all the properties of virgin soil. It is almost fillable in extent and is heated by the fierce rays of a tropical sun. All it needs to make it grow date palms is water, and all it needs to get water is irrigation.

Three years ago the department of agriculture planted a number of trees in the deserts for experimentation purposes, and they have thrived. It takes five years for them to mature and bear fruit. Professor Pieters is going to examine to see how they are getting on. He recently left with Professor Stuenkel for the south. The result of this trip will be the planting of more date palm trees.

How Oysters Grow.

A man who has devoted much time to the study of the oyster says that this bivalve is born with its shell on and that he grows only in the summer time. The beard of an oyster is not only his breathing organ—that is, his lungs—but it also serves to convey food to his mouth. When the warm, calm days of June come the oyster opens his shell and by means of his beard begins building an additional story to his house. This he does by depositing very, very fine particles of carbonate of lime till at last they form a substance as thin as silver paper and exceedingly fragile. Then he adds more and more till at last the new shell is as hard as the old shell.

Newark Won at Lancaster.
Lancaster, O., June 4.—The home team was defeated yesterday by Newark in a loosely played game, both teams having an off day. The locals made a batting rally in the ninth, but a close decision against them at the plate put them out of the running. The same teams play today. Score:

The Y. M. C. A. team have scheduled the Mutes, a strong team of Columbus for a game next Saturday at the athletic grounds. The Y. M. C. A. boys are now playing good ball and will do their best to win this game.

Baseball at Idelwilde Park.
The baseball grounds at Idelwilde Park are nearing completion, and everything will be in readiness for the opening game next Sunday. The Newark team will return from Lancaster after today's game, having had a very successful trip. The boys are beginning to infuse team work into their play and are putting up an article of ball that will take the best of the Columbus Unions have in stock to defeat them.

Whalen, who pitched a winner against Lancaster will probably be put in the box by Manager Driscoll, while the Unions will present their strongest team.
The grounds at Idelwilde will be partially fenced off, and it has been decided to charge 20 cents admission to the game. The five cents admission to the park will make it cost 25 cents to see the game, cheaper than at any other city in Ohio where first class baseball is played.

The base ball games Wednesday resulted as follows:

NOTRE DAME

WON AT GRANVILLE SEVEN TO FOUR.

Indiana Boys Outplayed Denison on Beaver Field—Some Star Plays Made—The Score.

The Notre Dame team came from Indiana Wednesday, and their all day trip did not seem to have the least effect on their playing. They gave Denison a decisive defeat. They were well extended, took things easy and won by a score of 7 to 4. Denison presented Philpot as their pitcher, and he was not at his best. He was hit hard in the first three innings, was a trifle wild and with several bad errors by Roubush, Scott and Chambers the Indians piled up six runs, which lead was enough to win the game.

Philpot settled down after the third but it was then too late. The Notre Dame boys were taking things easy, and the Denison players could not bunt hits.

Both the Notre Dame pitchers were given excellent support and were saved on several occasions by fielding which was sensational. Salmon on one occasion ran far out into deep left and pulled down a line fly that would have been good for three bases had it got past him. He jumped into the air as the ball was going over his head, and for a moment no one realized that he had made the catch. It was a great piece of fielding at a critical time.

O'Connor, Gage and Goehagan, also killed base hits with a regularity that was discouraging to Denison's hopes of victory. The little short stop with the unspellable name had three errors, but they were made on difficult chances, and his fielding was really one of the features of the game. In the sixth he collided with Webber at the plate and for a time it was feared that he was badly hurt. His right knee was painfully wrenched, but he resumed his place.

For Denison Flanagan made a difficult forward running catch while Swing ran back and pulled down one that was ticketed good for a home run. Green at third played an errorless game.

Denison can offer no excuse for their defeat. They were simply outplayed. The Indiana players will play Ohio Wesleyan today, and O. S. U. Friday. The score:

THE LADY COOK.

A New Career For Working Gentlewomen.
Educated women of gentle birth instead of devoting themselves to the ill paid work of governesses are now embracing the calling of cooks, says the London Daily Mail. Many mistresses have lately specially asked at the registry offices for lady cooks.

The secretary of the central bureau for the employment of women in Southampton street, Holborn, London, says there is a demand for cooks who are gentlewomen by birth and education. But there are difficulties in the way unless mistresses are able to promise certain privileges which the ordinary cook, much as she may appreciate them, does not stipulate for. Some lady cooks, for instance, object to mix on terms of equality with domestics who are possibly grades beneath them educationally and by birth; hence, as a rule, lady cooks accept situations only in houses where there are lady parlor maids and housemaids. There are, however, a few cases in very large establishments where the cook is a lady and the rest of the servants are of the usual domestic class.

A very desirable situation was refused by one lady cook recently because her employer stipulated that she should take the head of the table in the servants' hall.

Startling Evidence.
Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, Bentonsville, Va. serves as example. He writes: "I had Bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited. Then I began to taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles, Consumption, Pneumonia and Grip. Guaranteed by Frank D. Hall, druggist. Regular sizes 50c and $1.00.

Improving on Horse Power.
In Venezuela many years ago a wealthy agriculturist was appointed minister of marine. Being a hard worker, he asked at once for particulars of the fleet. The secretary brought him particulars about the only war ship. The details gave length, tonnage and horse power. At this last the minister stopped the secretary and bade him write down quickly an order to the chief of customs, "Take out these 120 horses at once, and I will send you good mules in their places," explaining that mules were much more economical, both as regards food and ability to withstand fatigue.

Cow-ack Customs.
Many queer customs and usages are prevalent among the Cossacks. No man changes his clothes on a Monday. On Thursday no fat or flesh meat must be picked or corned. Wool is not spun on a holiday. A hen is always given an uneven number of eggs to hatch, never an even number. Bones 'ft from a dinner at a funeral are thrown into the river, and at the same meal no one dare cut bread; it must always be broken.

Acker's Blood Elixir positively cures Chronic Blood Poisoning and all Scrofulous affections. At all druggists, a matchless system tonic and purifier. Money refunded if you are not satisfied. 50c and $1. For sale by Collins & Son.

BRILLIANT

WEDDING OF MISS BLOOD AND MR. A. O. VEITCH.

Ceremony Took Place Wednesday Evening at Bride's Home, 161 Hudson Avenue.

One of the most brilliant and elaborate home weddings that ever took place in Newark, was that of Miss Lucy Hathaway Blood, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Blood to Mr. Albert Orme Veitch, which was solemnized at the residence of the bride's parents, 161 Hudson avenue at eight o'clock Wednesday night.

The wealth and fashion of Newark shone resplendent in the brilliantly lighted parlors of the spacious home, and not one discordant note marred the beautiful and complete harmony of the joyous occasion.

At eight o'clock a hush fell upon the expectant and happy guests, as Rev. George W. Van Fossen, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, took his place at the floral altar, formed of palms and potted plants, on which burned pink candles, which shed a subdued light upon the brilliant decorations of the back parlor.

Marsh's orchestra took up the strains of the ever beautiful and appropriate Wagnerian wedding march, and as the bridal party appeared, every eye followed the progress of the beautiful bride, accompanied by her magnificently gowned attendants. The groom with his best man and brother, James Veitch of Cambridge, stood at the altar, and awaited the coming of his radiant bride, who appeared on the arm of her father. She is a beautiful young woman, but never did she look so refulgent, as on this, her wedding night. She wore a gown of white liberty silk, covered with white Brussels net, her veil being held in place by a spray of orange blossoms and caught in her hair with a diamond sunburst, the gift of the groom. Her face beamed with radiant happiness and no man ever looked upon fairer bride than she, who was to become the wife of Albert Orme Veitch.

Helen Blood, a sister of the bride, was flower girl, while Misses Lucille Harrington, Ada Follett and Julia McCune were bridesmaids. The bridesmaids wore white chiffon.

E. W. Crayton and Parr Dole acted as ushers and carried the ribbons.

The decorations for the entire wedding were harmoniously carried out in pink, white and green, palms, smilax, roses and other flowers lending themselves to the general artistic effect.

After the ceremony and congratulations had been given, a wedding supper was served, the chief interest of course centering in the bride's table. Here sat Mr. and Mrs. Albert O. Veitch, James Veitch, E. W. Crayton, Parr Dole, Alice McCune, Julia McCune, Ada Follett, Esther Veach, Lucille Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Rhoads, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown and Charles C. Magruder and Mr. Carey of Cambridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Veitch left about two o'clock Thursday morning for New York, Niagara Falls, a trip down the Hudson, a short visit in Washington, and will then go to their future home in Connellsville, Pa.

Among those present at the wedding from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Veitch, father and mother, two brothers and two sisters of the groom from Cambridge, Hon. J. J. Chester of Columbus, an uncle of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Will Green of New York City, Mr. Will Blood of Parkersburg, W. Va. and a number from Pittsburg, Connellsville and other places.

Mrs. Veitch, as Miss Lucy Blood, has been a favorite in Newark's ultra fashionable circles, and has been admired for her beauty of person and character by all who knew her in Newark where she has lived all her life.

Mr. Veitch was formerly located in Newark as train dispatcher on the B. & O., but is now assistant trainmaster of the Connellsville division of the B. & O. with headquarters in that city. He is a man of high character and business ability which will undoubtedly continue to receive recognition in railroad circles.

The young people begin their married life under the most auspicious circumstances, and the Advocate joins in wishing them continued happiness and prosperity.

Friends Outwitted.

Granville, O., June 4—Mr. Albert O. Veitch and bride, nee Blood, succeeded in outwitting their friends at Newark last night and slipped away without the usual shower of rice and white ribbons nailed to their trunks. Some of the boys had arranged to decorate their baggage and give the bride and groom a good "send off" at Newark but they failed. Mr. and Mrs. Veitch drove to Granville, getting here at 4 o'clock this morning. They stopped at the Buxton House and left Granville at 7:45 this morning going south on the Toledo and Ohio Central train.

THE JOY THAT WAS.

I WISH I were a child again
And free from worldly cares,
To gallop free and wild again,
Unmindful of the snares;
I wish that I might try again
To see if I could hold
A piece of mother's pie again
Upside down as of old,
And, starting at the pointed place,
Just let it sozzle through my face.

I wish that I could fare again
Far from thror and whir
And be a boy out there again
To softly plead with her,
And when she cut the pie again
And handed me a wedge
I'd leave a heartfelt sigh again
And with the business edge
Inserted in the proper place,
Just let it sozzle through my face.

—S. E. Kiser in Chicago Record-Herald.

How Could She?

She had been naughty, there had been no doubt about that, and her mamma was administering corporal punishment. All morning she had been perverse, and now, as the maternal hand fell with depressing force upon her small person, she yelled lustily.

"Be still, I tell you!" said her mother without interrupting the business in hand. "Stop crying! Stop this minute!"

The small person turned defiantly. "Well, how am I agoin' to stop cryin'?" she sobbed, "when you keep a-spankin' me all the time to make me cry?"—New York Times.

Wanted to Be Sure of Her.

The old colored brother was bargaining for a monument to his late spouse.

"How much does dat big one weigh?" he asked.

"Well," replied the marble man, "if it's weight you're after, I should say about a ton."

The widower thought a moment; then, turning to his friend, said: "You reckon dat'll hold her down?"—Atlanta Constitution.

Equine Hysteria.

"So glad you've come, doctor! This is my husband."

"Suffering from hysteria, eh? That's a curious noise he makes. Sounds like neighing."

"It is neighing, doctor. You see, he insists upon mixing his breakfast foods and this morning he got in too much oats."—Houston Post.

Vetoed.

"I hear your engagement to old Gold- man's daughter is announced."

"No. It was announced."

"Well, that's the same thing, isn't it?"

"It was announced; it is now denounced. I've just been interviewing her father."—Philadelphia Ledger.

MODES OF THE MOMENT.

Spotted muslins and grass lawns are used for many of the newest shirt waists.

Pale blue, mauve and rose tints are leading favorites in linen, batiste and other wash fabrics.

White chip picture hats trimmed with black velvet ribbon and red or pink roses are in high favor.

Many of the loosely fitting coats are of the new tussore silk, richly garnished with thick string lace.

Elbow sleeves characterize many of the muslin bodices, and one sees gaugings on almost every other skirt.

Floral painted tussore make up into the prettiest of summer frocks of blouses, with a soft chou and cincture of liberty silk for the requisite note of color.

Chiffon gathered and plaited and decorated with petals of silk or spots of chenille or lines of ribbon velvet run through insertions of lace make some elaborate deep cape collars.

Pipings of yellow taffeta around the tabs of skirt and bodice and bodice give a modish touch of color to a gown of white voile. The tiny cravat, as well as the lining, is of the same yellow silk.—Brooklyn Eagle.

A Cheap Election.

Senator Pettus of Alabama recently disproved the prevailing theory that all seats in the United States senate are expensive and that that body is altogether a millionaires' club. He sent to the secretary of state of Alabama the sum of $1 in a postal note to cover the entire expenses for his recent unanimous election. This sum represents the fee of the secretary of state for his services. So far as known this is a record in the minimum price for seats in the senate.
